What to expect

On average, the client will spend just over an hour in treatment. First, the body is exfoliated, followed by an invigorating massage with an ampoule serum – Aminocel for cellulite, or Aminodren for inch loss. A thick layer of Parafango paraffin is then brushed on. The client is then wrapped firmly and placed in a warming cocoon for 20 minutes. The wrap is then removed to reveal a firmer, sleeker body. A treatment extending moisture treatment is then massaged into the skin to complete the treatment. The skin may be slightly flushed immediately following the treatment. It will be necessary to drink plenty of water following the treatment.
